President's Message

Dear Friends,

I promised my letter in this issue of our quarterly would be devoted to the introduction and promotion of our newest publication, Crossett Sawmill Interviews.

I will admit to being a publishaholic when I took this job because I truly love books. I have learned though that No. 1, it takes lots of money to put out a new publication, and No. 2, there may not be a crowd waiting to buy the latest census or tax list so it takes a long time to get your investment back.

I love to find marriage records, court records, census or other family information in book form. You can hold it in your hand, read it without hunching over a machine and it's much easier to copy from a real live page. Besides, books are my friends and microfilm readers and printers hate me. They try to get me in trouble with librarians by making noise and unrolling the wrong end and turning the tape upside down. When we go on a research trip I always take the books and Claude handles the machines. They like him!

When we were offered the chance to publish the Sawmill Interviews I was excited to have something that I thought would appeal to everyone and I believe these books will sell well enough to pay back our publishing costs quickly.

When I took a copy home. Claude and I stayed up half the night reading the interviews and saying Just one more or Listen to this one! It's like a visit back to a time and place that you don't want to leave. I have only lived in Crossett 39 1/2 years, so I'm a newcomer, but reading about the town in its beginning – the community spirit, the physical and moral strength of its people, the simple pleasures and practical jokes that spiced up a life of hard work made me wish I could have personally known all of these people. My all time hero, John Wayne, had to move over and make room for some of these men and women.

One of the men interviewed was Mr. W. A. Phillips. He says he came to Crossett in March of 1918. When Claude and I moved to our home on Cedar Street in 1959, Mr. Phillips and his wife lived several houses down the street. I knew Mr. Phillips' name, but I had never met him. I never had a conversation with him but every time he passed me in his car he would slow down and tip his hat. Later, when he didn't drive any more, he would walk past our house and, if I was out, he would stop, speak and tip his hat. That impressed me so much and I looked forward to seeing him because you could depend on that courtesy. We sure have not come a long way baby in my opinion when a gentleman no longer pauses and tips his hat. When Mr. Phillips died, I missed him very much. After reading the interviews, I really wished I had taken the time to visit, I'm sure it would have been a rare treat.

This group of lumber people didn't come into Ashley County to cut the trees and move on. They came to build a life and build a town. They were far-seeing, God fearing, family loving people.

I have read all the cards at least twice and each time I've found something new. I think that will happen every time I read them. There is a great deal of information in this book.

I've always been happy to say ACGS has a new publication, but I am so very proud and happy about this one. I hope you will feel the same way. I'm grateful to the Paul Sullins Library for the chance to be partners in preserving and sharing this piece of history.

I'm not sure when you will get the quarterly with this letter, but to cover all bases I'll say Merry Christmas and have a great New Year, keep warm and keep in touch.

Mary Spainhour

Wilhite-Honeycutt

The following are segments from letters from Warren D. Wilhite to ACGS member, Patsy K. White, written in 1988 and 1990. Warren Wilhite died in 1993 in Sherwood, Arkansas.

One item might be of interest, that I have never seen in print. From my granduncle, Warren Savery Wilhite, 1855-1941, told me that at the time of the Battle of Vicksburg (he was 9) that the sound of the bombardments could be heard in Hamburg. A low grumbling, threatening sound and it continued for weeks. Vicksburg is about 75 air miles from Hamburg, so that represents a lot of gun powder. I had a lot of trouble confirming several things that were handed down about my g-grandfather, Thomas Jefferson Wilhite. One was that he was a Methodist Minister. I searched several histories of Methodism in Arkansas and he just was not there. I found that Ashley and Chicot Counties were in the Northern Louisiana Conference, and there I found his full record in the archives of Centenary University of Shreveport, LA. He was ordained to the level of Deacon on December 20, 1850. This is a step below Elder, and so he escaped being shipped from pillar to post. He never took a cent for his services. This explained why he moved to Ashley County in the first place. It was at the request of the Conference. They needed a church there but had no one they could assign to him. He had been preaching in Union Parish and teaching school in Farmerville, Louisiana.

He bought some land and move to Ashley County in 1858, and settled about half way between Hamburg and Berlin. Oral history says over 400 acres, not all cleared, and some of it swamp along the Tcheminahaut Creek. He built a log house and used it as a meeting house and taught school in it during the week. By tradition he built the house on his own land. Did he ever deed it to the church? The road to Poley Ridge Cemetery (Gees') is said to have gone by or through his property, and he may have donated the land too. Land records are as dry as dust, but can reveal many interesting things.

A History of Ashley County states in 1860, Thomas J. Wilhite was the only person in Ashley County with a collection of books large enough to call a library; 122 volumes. Of these, six still exist and I have one of them. This history also reports that he was the only man in the county to vote AGAINST SECESSION in 1863. That sure tore his britches with the congregation, for they all quit coming to hear him preach. Public pressure finally forced him to sell his land in 1865, just a few weeks before the end of the Civil War. He received Confederate money that became worthless, almost as soon as he got it. Enough money to fill a small trunk, and I still have some of these bills. Save your money boys for the South gonna rise again! Thomas J. Wilhite's stand on secession is rather odd, as he was a slave owner, with 10 slaves himself. He was born in 1814 in Bedford County, Tennessee. When he was four, his father Absolom Wilhite bought and gave him a whipping boy of about the same age. His name was Amos Clayton. When Leah Farmer was 6 in 1820, her father gave her a personal servant, Martha, age 8 years. When Thomas J. and Leah married in 1840, Amos and Martha also married. That simplified living conditions. I have no record of any children that Amos and Martha ever had. The other eight slaves were all relatives of Martha, and were bought at her request, whether they were needed or not. As they had no surname, all the men took the name of Wilhite or Willhite.

When the war ended, the slaves had to go on their own, as there was no land for them to work. Amos and Martha refused to go. Martha is reported to have said, We may starve, but we will all do it together. Someone asked Amos why he stayed with that old man, and he replied, Someone gotta look after him and mite as well be me. They did stay until parted by death in Hunt County, Texas, Leah in 1892, Martha in 1893, Thomas J. in 1895 and Amos in 1896. Thomas J. and Leah Wilhite are buried side by side in the Foof Cemetery at Farmersvill, Colin Co., Texas. Amos and Martha are in the colored cemetery just across the fence.

The Carpet Baggers treated Thomas J. Wilhite the same as did the neighbors. It puzzled me that in some letters he refers to them as RADS, and I finally found that was short for Radical Republicans. It is no wonder that Arkansas will still vote for a yellow dog over a Republican.

My grandfather, Lucian Larsh Wilhite, was born in Ashley County in 1863, and he died in Little Rock in 1949. When he got big enough he worked out for the neighbors, and saved his money and bought three things—a good saddle horse, saddle and a colt revolver of which he was very proud. When he was 16 in 1878, he shat an uppity nigger, saddled his horse and took off for Texas to be a cowboy. In 1928, he owned 25,000 critters of his own, all White Leghorn laying hens, with a rooster on the place. He was one of the first large-scale egg producers in Arkansas. The black man didn't die, but Lucian sure thought he did.

Thomas J. Wilhite was a man of many talents. Amos Clayton did the managing of the farm, while Thomas fooled around preaching, teaching, and building bridges for the county. He was a versatile woodworker, making furniture, spinning wheels, and looms. He grew his own hemp, built a special wheel to spin the cordage, and a loom to weave it on. The hemp was treated much like flax, retted, broke, and corded for the fiber. The fine fiber, called tow, would not do for bagging but was spun and woven into cloth to make work clothes. The harder the twist put on the thread, the more durable the cloth. I am not sure about Ashley Co. but just across the line in Ouachita Parish, LA, a lot of hemp was raised for the Rope Walks in New Orleans. He also raised his own tobacco, and from what I have heard of it, after two or three fillings of it in his pipe, it became strong enough to pull a double bottom plow.

In those days it was against the law to teach a black to read and write, but Thomas J. was home-taught with Amos sitting beside him. When he went off to college, Amos was there with him, where else would a personal servant be?

When Thomas J. got his church started in Ashley County, the blacks attended as well, and sat in the back rows, until they were crowded out, then they held their own preaching in the quarters, with Amos doing the preaching Thomas took care of the marriages and baptising, but Amos handled the funerals. I have found no evidence that Amos Clayton was ever ordained, but it would not surprise me to find that there is an AME Church in Ashley County that can trace its roots to Amos Clayton.

About 1870, Thomas J. Wilhite started having a series of strokes that disabled him, so in 1880 he and his wife, Leah, went to live with their daughter, Mary Jane Wilhite, who married Charles Wesley Honeycutt, in Floyd, Texas. The son, Warren Savery Wilhite, had moved to Florida in 1878, so that left only two of the family in Ashley County. Emily Angeline Wilhite married John McDuffie and raised a whole tribe of McDuffies. I have lost all trace of that branch of the family. Byron Farmer Bud Wilhite first married Mrs. Sarah Segars nee Harris, who died in 1885, then in 1886 he married Alabama Rebecca Banner Gee. Aunt Banner died in 1907 at the birth of a son Murry Wilhite. Aunt Emily took the child in 1907 at the birth of a son Murry Wilhite. Aunt Emily took the child to raise. Uncle Warren came from Florida and took all the rest of the children back to Florida except the boys. Thomas Farmer Wilhite moved to Florida to be near his sister in 1916. The oldest son, William M. Wilhite became a banker in Dermott, Arkansas and died in a car wreck in 1949. That ended my last connection to Ashley County, for Willie never married.

Charles Wesley Honeycutt, Jr. was a merchant in Crossett in 1915, but I have not record of him marrying.

Warren Daniel Wilhite

Note: There are a number of Wilhite family buried in Poley Ridge Cemetery.

Hyde/Marshall/Connor

I have been researching our family history for a life time. I'm 70 years old and around every corner you find someone new. I have looked everywhere in Arkansas for a lost family member and the other day in Paducah, KY, I was at a friend's house and he had a file box marked Arkansas and he let me borrow them to take home and read. One of them was Vol. III, No. 4, Spring Edition, 1989 and on page 128, there was what I've been looking for our Ezekiel Hyde married Miss Anna Marshall, both of Miss.

Our family history about the Hydes is as follows: There was a Charles Hyde, wife unknown, who had three sons; Joseph, who settled in Tenn., Ansel who settle in Rome, Indiana and Ezekiel who settled in the Mississippi Delta, Ark. At some point in time he married, wife unknown. They had a daughter named Mary and maybe some more brothers and sister, we don't know because as the story goes all of her family were massacred by Indians except Mary Hyde who was hiding in the bushes and watched her family being massacred. Some how May Hyde got back to Indiana to live with her great-grandmother. She married by great-grandfather, William Connor, who had some more children, one being Earl Connor, my father.

Any way back to Mary Hyde, she was born Jan 13, 1822 in Mississippi and died July 25, 1912 in Graves Co., KY. Her birthdate and the marriage date of Ezekiel Hyde and Anna Marshall leads me to believe that he lived through the massacre and Anna was his second marriage, or a son lived and married Anna Marshall. Can you shed any light on the massacre or the Hyde Family. One of the things that was mentioned in the family history was that they lived on the Hyde Plantation.

Burns

I am seeking the place of death, place of burial and dates of birth and death of William A. Burns (Burnes).

In the 1860 Federal Census of Cherokee County, AL the family is listed as follows:

Burns, Wm A.	m	34	GA
Elizabeth	f	31	GA
Andrew	m	9	AL
Wm.	m	7	AL
John	m	4	AL
Susanna	f	1	AL

In the 1870 Federal Census of Ashley County, Arkansas Extra Township, P.O. Hamburg, the family is as follows:

Burns, Sarah	f	42	GA
Andrew	m	19	AL
Josiah	m	18	AL
John	m	14	AL
Louisannia	f	10	AL
Yancy	m	9	AR
Margaret	f	6	AR
McKion	m	1	AR

This Arkansas family is the William A. Burns family from Cherokee County, AL. It seems the family ledt AL after the 1860 census and when to Arkansas. I believe William was in the Confederate Army and have a military record for a William A. Burns that I ordered from the Arkansas History Commission. The only information in the record is that William A. Burns was enlisted September 23, 1861, by Capt. Lacy at El Dorado, Arkansas into Company C. 2nd Battn., AR Inf. From the census, I believe William died in 1868 or 1869 as the last child was 1 year old in 1870.

I do not have any dates on this family. All I know is from the census. Any information will be greatly appreciated. If there are known descendants of this family in the area, an address will be appreciated.

A New Book For Sale!

Crossett Sawmill Interviews is being published by ACGS in cooperation with the Paul Sullins Library. This is a book that will be of interest to everyone and we feel would make a very nice Christmas gift.

Back in the 1940's, certain employees of the Crossett Lumber Company, under the direction of P. F. Watzek interviewed many of the early citizens and sawmill workers who gave accounts of their memories of early Crossett and surrounding areas, covering a period from 1860-1948. These recollections were typed on cards, and stored away and forgotten. They recently have come into the hands of the library. We decided the best way to share this valuable information would be a book. The original cards are unaltered and shown in the book, which will contain approximately 225 pages, including a full index of every name and place mentioned. There are more than 350 individual persons or families mentioned in the interviews.

ACGS is taking orders at this time and the book is scheduled to be available the first week in December of 1995. The introductory price is $15, and after that the price will hold until the end of this year. After January 1, 1996, the price will be $17.50. You may place your order by mailing your check to ACGS, P. O. Box R, Crossett, Arkansas 71635. They will also be on sale at the Library; or you may contact Mary or Claude Spainhour at (501) 364-2885.
